Terms and conditions

- Media passes are limited and accreditation is at the discretion of the festival organisers.
- Preference will be given to media that support Splashy Fen 2012 with pre-event coverage.
- Freelance journalists, videographers and photographers will only be considered for accreditation if they have been commissioned to cover the festival by a specific publication or media channel.
- Editorials and reviews, film/video footage and still photographs taken at Splashy Fen are to be used solely in the media channel for which you are applying for accreditation, and may not be used for commercial purposes, or be sold or given freely to agencies, production houses or any other media (including but not limited to print or electronic publications, websites, blogs and social networking platforms), without the organisers' prior written permission.
- Photographers and film crews may not be intrusive, invade anyone's privacy, or use lighting or equipment that could interfere with any of the performances.
- The organisers reserve the right to withdraw photography or filming privileges at any time, or to restrict access to specific areas.
- The organisers also reserve the right to request copies of photographs and footage shot at Splashy Fen, at no cost to themselves.
- Media passes are not transferable and successful applicants may be required to produce some form of identification at the festival.

If my request for accreditation is successful, I agree to abide by the above terms and conditions.
